This Paddy will grow even in drought like situations

Farmers now have a reason to celebrate with the introduction of 'Swarn Purvi Dhaan-4,' a high-yielding paddy variety designed to thrive even in drought conditions. Developed by scientists at the Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR), Patna, under the leadership of Dr. Santosh Kumar, this innovative aerobic rice variant requires significantly less water and labor than traditional paddy cultivation.

Unlike conventional varieties, 'Swarn Purvi Dhaan-4' eliminates the need for nursery transplantation—farmers can directly sow seeds in the field. The crop matures within 115 to 120 days, ensuring a quicker turnaround. With an impressive grain recovery rate of 61.9%, it offers yields of 45 to 50 quintals per hectare, using just 25 to 30 kg of seeds per hectare.

Maize production in Bihar surges 66.6% in 3 years

Bihar has recorded an impressive 66.6% increase in maize production between 2020-21 and 2023-24, reaching 5.86 million tonnes, according to the Bihar Economic Survey (2024-25) presented in the state legislature. This growth is driven by the rising demand for maize in ethanol production, aligning with the Central government's biofuel policy, which promotes maize and rice as key feedstocks. With Karnataka as its only major competitor, Bihar continues to be a leading maize producer, generating economic opportunities and local employment.

The survey also highlights a 21% rise in rice production, a 10.7% increase in wheat output, and a 9.7% boost in mango yield between 2022-23 and 2023-24, further strengthening Bihar's agricultural growth story.

State has seen big jump in production of maize: Report

subhash.pathak@htlive.com

PATNA: Maize production has risen by 66.6% between 2020-21 and 2023-24 in Bihar, thanks to burgeoning demands from various industries, stated the latest edition of Bihar Economic Survey (2024-25), which was tabled on the floor of the state legislature on Friday.

The survey report pointed out that production of maize had grown to 5.86 million tonne in the year 2023-24 from 3.52 million in the year 2020-21.

Agricultural experts attributed the huge interest among farmers to cultivate maize owing to its demand in ethanol production for blending with petrol.

Bihar has been one of the leading producers of maize in the country with Karnataka being the only competitor in the country. Officials of the state agriculture department said that farmers are being encouraged to produce maize as a feedstock for ethanol plants and thereby get higher returns.

In conformity to the Central government's policy to utilise maize and rice as feedstock for ethanol production, the agriculture department has actively pursued farm mechanisation and distribution of high-yield variety seeds among the farmers to boost maize productivity. "This shift towards maize cultivation for ethanol is creating new economic opportunities for farmers and generating local employment in the state," said a senior officer.

As per the survey, rice and wheat production have increased by 21% and 10.7% between 2022-23 and 2023-24. In horticulture, total mango production has increased by 9.7% between 2022-23 and 2023-24.
